

For someone who has listened to broadcast radio for decades and continue to do so, I feel that they need to improve their programing and selection rather than try to stifle the first bright spot in many years--satellite radio. Please do not back efforts to eliminate this option for radio listeners, willing to pay to receive better radio.

Claude D. McMullen